

SEE-THROUGHER

by darrell scott

A wise old man once said to me
“Don’t trust the things your eyes can see ‘Cause if you do you’ll know confusion
Always judging, by illusion”

“Don’t look at - - see through, my friend
Beyond the frown, the sneer, the grin
Peer deep into the living soul
Where beauty, wonders will unfold

Both fear and judgment fall apart
When viewing others from the heart
So don’t look at, adjust your view
And focus deeper, seeing through!

This is from Darrell Scott, whose daughter Rachael was the first child killed at Columbine. He has a huge work with kids around the world because of her death. He told us also that as he was driving to the school that day to see if his children were affected that Norman’s words to him to “see through to find God” in whatever he must face. His daughter, Rachael, was taken and his son, Scott, was spared.
